A TUNNEL UNDER A TUNNEL.

A Political Allegory.

By J. W. DeFOREST.

The tunnel had obtained a charter from Congress and likewise a loan of forty millions from the United States treasury, the same being only a dollar a head from every inhabitant of this free country, including women, children, negroes and Indians not taxed. Two or three times as many more millions had come in from financiers who saw forty-percent. profit in an early purchase, and from a simple public which believed that it could safely follow the lead of the wise men of the capital. Furthermore, the directors and managers of the Great Subfluvial had contrived what might be called a Sub-Tunnel for their own peculiar emolument, which fulfilled its purpose admirably.

This was a most wonderful invention, and deserves our intensest study. It was a corporation inside of the original corporation. Its ostensible object was the construction of Subfluvial, but its real object was the division of the capital into profits. For instance, it built a mile of tunnel at a cost of, say ten thousand dollars, and then delivered the same to the outside company for say, fifty thousand dollars, and then shared the difference of forty thousand dollars among its own stockholders. Of course there was a better bargain for the inside company than for the outside one, but all chances of quarrelling between the two was evaded by a very effective device: they had the same men for directors, or the same men's partners.

O, it was a beautiful business idea—this Floating Credit, or Syndicate, or whatever its inventors christened it. It reminds one of that ingenious machine called the Hen Persuader, which was so constructed that when placed under a hen's nest, it would withdraw every egg the moment it was laid, whereupon biddy would infer that her sensations had deceived her with regard to the fact of laying, and would immediately deposit another egg, and so continue to do until she died of exhaustion. In some respects, also, this internal corporation resembled that hungry creature known as a tape-worm, which devours a man's dinner as fast as he swallows it, and leaves him hungrier than ever.

Of course the gentlemen who held shares in the Hen Persuader did a profitable business, and filled their private wallets with golden eggs in abundance. But still they were not quite content; the old fowl above them, that is to say, Uncle Sam's eagle, occasionally cackled angrily; and it was extremely desirable to put a stop to his alarming demand for chickens. [Atlantic Monthly for September.

A Watering Place in the Rain.

A Saratoga correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser writes this sketch of rough weather at a summer resort:

There is nothing so metamorphosizes the scene at a summer watering-place as a change in the weather, and the effect of a sudden pique of the elements on the human mind is quite remarkable. A cold snap, or a prolonged rain, makes people glance twice in the direction of their rows of trunks, and look wearily at the hooks full of garments that must be packed before starting for home. Rough weather reverses the current of life at Saratoga. If the piazzas are cold and gloomy, and the roads to the springs wet, hotel guests may walk the parlors contentedly for one day, but after that they are very apt to be called home in a hurry or receive important news which requires their presence in the city.

Stocks will go up or down, or some relative be seized with fatal illness. No one is foolish enough to own he is leaving because the weather is dreary; but a careful observer will notice how all these misfortunes unfailingly occur when the wind blows cold or the sun is obscured by dark clouds. People are never very well balanced at Saratoga. The girls grow giddy, the old people garrulous, and the young men ungovernable, with the constant rush and excitement of so many people congregated for a good time. But Old Probabilities need only swing on a gale, or let loose the buckets in the clouds, to trip them all up and turn their thoughts and desires homeward. Be it told (in a whisper) the disagreeable weather of the past days has broken the "height of the season," has caused a falling off in numbers and has dampened the spirits of hotel proprietors.

The ladies bear the dull weather better than the men, as a rule, although they turn shiveringly from the dainty lawns and gauzy organdies prepared for August weather. White Swiss costumes look pale and limp on these gusty days. Max calls my attention to the fact that the umbrellas that have been so generally hoisted on the piazzas in fair weather, are laid away in disgust since the rain has taken the place of sunshine. The "glare" that dazzled so many bright eyes could not be borne as well as the moisture that is now taking the starch from frills and patent glossed collars. High ruffs are toppling over under the weight of the heavy atmosphere, and seem like barometers of the spirits of sojourners at Saratoga.

The San Francisco Alta gives the results of an interesting experiment as follows:—"Very favorable reports are given of the condition of Sherman Island, which is now at last entirely dry, except as the water is let in. The dyke is from thirty to sixty feet wide, and its top is from three to four feet above the level of the flood of 1862 the highest of which we have a record. The length is thirty miles, and its total cost has been $350,000, nearly $12,000 per mile, or $25 for each of 13,700 acres in the island. When the reclamation was commenced, the land was worth not more than $5 per acre, and the owners found great difficulty in obtaining the means for doing the work. Much of it was done under serious disadvantages, and with far more expense than would have have been necessary if the contract could have been given out as a whole, with abundant security, for cash payment immediately on completion. Notwithstanding many unfavorable circumstances, the enterprise is a decided pecuniary success, and Sherman Island promises to become one of the most productive and desirable agricultural districts of the state. Situated at the junction of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers, sixteen miles east of Benecia, it has the benefit of the breezes which pour through the great wind gap at Carquinez Strait. This year 7,200 acres have been cultivated in grain, 500 in beans, 400 in potatoes, and 150 in alfalfa, and next year considerable additions will be made to the cultivated area. The crops are large, and there can be no lack of moisture."

HUMAN NATURE. There exists in our poor human nature an absurd but almost universal tendency to appear other than what we are. The summer idlers are already beginning to return from their vacations, and when they are slapped on the back by a friend with kind inquiries as to their holidays half of them begin to reply by an explanation why they did not go to Newport or Saratoga. They may have been to some pleasanter and more rational place, but before they give you its name they will explain the circumstance which induced them to go there rather than to the more fashionable resorts. A gentleman in the diplomatic service informs us that out of every dozen Americans who visited the Legation in Paris, three-fourths, when asked where they were stopping, would preface the information by giving the reason why they were not at the Grand Hotel.

No one ever crosses the ocean on a steamer of a cheap line without specifying some particular attraction which induced him to make the choice. We have known men who would never show you a silver watch without telling you how much they preferred it, at the same price, to a gold one. A gentleman who cannot afford to buy a solitaire diamond will say that a pearl or an emerald is much prettier. If he dines at a cheap house on Third avenue, he will insist the dinner is better than Delmonico's. In short, the average American never will admit that cheapness has any attraction for him, or costliness any terrors. Herein he differs from all other peoples. Two Frenchmen will calculate the price of their dinner before they order it. Two German countesses will ask each other the cost of every article of finery they wear. The American will learn better as he goes along. [New York Tribune.

The rapid departure of guests from the hotel at Bar Harbor shows how necessary it is for a watering place to pay attention to sanitary affairs.

Medals of merit have been awarded at Vienna, to 132 American competitors. Of these five were for agricultural implements; seven for weapons of war; six for photographs and art materials and three for sewing machines, beside the Wheeler and Wilson and the Wilson machines, which are not on the printed list.

We are so ignorant that we would like to know something about the relative grades of the Vienna prizes. The Wilson Sewing Machine Company consider themselves ahead because to their machine was awarded the Grand Prize for being the best sewing machine, and the Wheeler and Wilson Company are as much elated because to them has been assigned the Grand Medal of Progress on the ground that their machine is the only one recommended by the international jury for the Grand Diploma of Honor. Now, which of these machines is ahead?

There is a law now on the books requiring the officers of black regiments to be white, consequently, when a black cadet graduates at West Point, it will be necessary to assign him to a white regiment. Of course this law was passed before black officers were thought of, and now that such will soon exist the law had better be repealed.

It seems much more natural that black officers should command in regiments of their own than of another color. The law in question was passed, not out of any spite against the colored race, but because then there were no colored men fitted to receive commissions, and there was no prospect of such an event.

We have always disapproved of the salary grab but we have no patience with persons who stultify themselves by their asinine arguments against it. The Border City Herald can't see any difference between Congressmen voting themselves increased salaries and a clerk's opening his employer's safe and helping himself to what money he wants. The man who can't see that difference must be mentally blind. A clerk has no discretionary authority over his employer's finances, while to Congress is committed by the constitution the whole wealth of the nation to use as it sees fit. Congressmen are obliged to fix their own salaries, and there is nothing in the constitution or the statute book that limits their salaries to $5000 a year. If a merchant were to tell his bookkeeper to take from the safe such a sum as he thought proper for his services, and the bookkeeper should proceed to take $200 a month instead of the $150 which he had been drawing it certainly could not be called stealing. The merchant would have a perfect right to discharge that bookkeeper and get a cheaper man but he could not accuse him of dishonesty. The country may discharge its Congressmen and get more economical ones if it sees fit to do so, but the man who calls the salary grab a steal, lies, and if he is an intelligent man he knows it.

The Rev. Robert Collyer has felt moved to remonstrate against reductions and complimentaries to ministers. He thinks it would encourage a greater spirit of manliness in them to pay as they go, and then they wont owe. This is all very well for Robert Collyer who is settled over a wealthy and generous society in Chicago and who has a salary of five or ten thousand dollars a year, but it is a very different thing with a large majority of ministers. Commenting upon his note the Chicago Tribune says: "He bases the justice of this policy upon the fact that ministers, nowadays, receive as good pay, according to their talent and deserts, as any other class of people. No one will be inclined to deny this so far as large cities and prosperous country districts are concerned." No, not "so far as large cities and prosperous country districts are concerned, but everywhere else we are ready to deny it.

Even in our cities many clergymen may be found whose salaries do not exceed twelve or fifteen hundred dollars a year, and in the rural districts where a large majority of clergymen are located there are thousands who do not receive over six or seven hundred dollars a year.

Two or three years ago the average salary of the Congregational ministers in Illinois was $861.10, in Vermont, $589.50; Michigan, $861.10; Iowa, $648; Massachusetts, $790; New Hampshire, $650; Maine, $600; general average, $712.83. Amasa Walker ascertained that in 1865 the average salary of 150 clergymen in eighteen different states, and with salaries ranging from $500 to $3000, was $907.2–.

It is nonsense to say that the compensation of this profession compares well with that of any other professions. A minister has the pay of a second class mechanic and yet he must dress decently, educate his children, and mix in society with persons who have ten times his income. Undoubtedly the clergy would be very glad to forego their privileges if they could have a decent compensation, but as long as a man cares more for the training of a pup than for the culture of his higher nature and the welfare of his soul, so long will ministers be underpaid. This underpayment has a practical value in keeping out of the pulpit mercenary minded persons, but it is ungraceful for Robert Collyer on a handsome salary to attack privileges that are almost indispensable to his poorer brethren.

Many of the proprietors of summer resorts are adopting the foreign plan, and instead of paying the servants for their labor, the servants pay them for positions. Other landlords, again, neither pay nor are paid, but agree to divide fees with the help. It is all the same in the end to the mulcted guest.

The recent storm has interfered with the prospects of summer resorts, although the hotel keepers would much rather have such weather at this season than have it come a couple of weeks later. Such a storm at the end of August would drive people home; as it is, everybody believes we shall experience many warm days yet.

Professor Abbe has been ordered to other duties, and a new man now prepares the weather probabilities.

There is nothing like exact statements. Hence it is not reported that five inches of rain have fallen in Boston since August came in. The rainfall has been 1.99 inches.

State Miscellany.

When the excursion train which left Providence about seven o'clock was just above Valley Falls, it was ascertained that a woman had jumped from the train. Conductor Bellows stopped, sent a signal back and backed his train down over the bridge and found her at the bottom of the high bank just above the bridge, west side, apparently not much hurt by the hazardous leap. She said she wanted to stop at Pawtucket, but would not be induced to take the accommodation train, which came up, and go to the Valley and return. She said she knew her business best. The train was detained about twenty minutes.

A meeting of the Newport Artillery Veteran Association was held last evening at their armory on Clarke street. Some minor business matters were settled after which it was voted to make a grand street parade on the seventh of next month. On this occasion they will appear in their new uniform for the first time. It was also voted to make an excursion on Wednesday, the 3rd of September, to Riverside and they have made arrangements with the American Steamboat company to that effect and also with Messrs. Hopkins and Sears of the place mentioned. It is expected that the organization will be accompanied by a large number of their friends from this city and vicinity. Their uniforms are being made by Pollett.

PUTTING MATTERS RIGHT. We have been requested by a friend of Mr. Campbell, of the Ocean House, to correct the statement in our yesterday's issue in regard to that gentleman. Mr. C. is not named Saul Isaac Campbell, but Douglas P. Campbell. He is also not of the Jewish firm of S. Isaac Campbell & Co., of London, England, but is visiting Newport for health and pleasure. For the sake of having some occupation he engaged with the firm of S. I. Campbell & Co., of London, to look after a small claim they have before the Anglo-American Commission.

The Triton Yacht Club, like Artemus Ward's company, consists entirely of officers. Immediately before starting on this cruise the officers, like the Forty-second Congress, voted themselves two years back pay, but whether their salaries are due in Confederate currency or not, we are unable to state.

The Yacht Race.

We give below the time made yesterday by the yachts. If not the fastest on record it must be very nearly so. The distance to Block Island and back cannot be much less than sixty miles, and the yachts must have bowled along at the rate of sixteen or seventeen miles an hour.

EXCHANGE BANK.

Suspicious Persons lurking about. An Attempt on the Bank Suspected.

On Wednesday last a man went into the National Exchange Bank and made some enquiries of Mr. Norman, the cashier, about exchange on England. Mr. Norman gave him the required information and the man went off saying that he must consult his mother who was stopping at the Ocean House, and on the next day he would return and complete the negotiations. That same evening, and in fact a day or two earlier, several men had been noticed sitting on Zion Church steps and on the Mall and looking at the bank. The family of Mr. Sheffield had noticed them, and Mr. Sheffield's daughter, whose curiosity had been aroused by their peculiar actions, had watched them for some time. But as yet no one had suspected the designs of these men and Mr. Norman did not associate the man we have spoken of with them.

About noon yesterday Mr. Norman noticed three men sitting on the church steps and looking over at the bank. Just then Mr. Richard Cornell entered and stopped some minutes having some private conversation with the cashier. Mr. Felix Peckham also came in and sat a few minutes. Mr. Cornell finally went out and was soon followed by Mr. Peckham. The clerk of the bank all this time had not shown himself at all or made any movement from his desk and one would naturally suppose that there was only one person in the building. Mr. Norman had returned to his desk from escorting Mr. Peckham to the door and had been writing but a few minutes when two persons, one tall and one short, and both rather nobbily dressed, entered the bank. The shorter of the two was the one who had called on Wednesday.

This man gave his name as J. Wallace of Trenton, N. J., but did not give the name of his companion. He at once began talking about the exchange, while the other man passed along to the next window, and put his head over to discover who was there. He saw the clerk, a very slight young man, sitting at his desk. The vault doors were all open, and the door into the reception room between the office and the street was unfastened.

The short man wanted to know how much English money he could get for $1,850 in greenbacks. Mr. Norman took a scrap of paper and figured out the amount, seven hundred and odd pounds, and gave him the result. He never suspected any attempt at violence; but did suspect that the men wanted to pass some counterfeit greenbacks. The short man then drew from his pocket a large envelope from which he partially drew some bonds.

Mr. Norman concluded that the game was with counterfeit bonds but only kept up an ordinary conversation about the matter of the exchange. Meanwhile Mr. Bryer was walking on the opposite side of the square and noticed one man with his face close up to the bank window and another man was standing above the bank while a very large man was standing just below the bank on the opposite side.

This looked a little peculiar, and he watched them for about eight minutes, he should think, when he met Mr Bliss who had noticed the same thing. Together they crossed the square and walked up to the bank. The man at the window saw them and stepped away. The tall man inside had been watching him, though Mr. Norman did not know that any body was outside, and when he saw the man at the window move off he stepped back a little and immediately the short man concluded that he should have to get some more money before he could do anything; as he wanted to get about a thousand pounds of English money. Mr. Norman invited them to call again at ten o'clock today, and they retired, and have not since been seen. Messrs. Bryer and Bliss walked into the bank before the men had left. Mr. Bliss remained near the door and Mr. Bryer walked through the bank and back again. It was noticed that the large man outside looked very peculiar and turned quite red.

The probability is that had not Messrs. Bryer and Bliss interrupted the proceedings it was the intention of the two men inside to knock Mr. Norman and his clerk on their heads with slung shots and rifle the vault; all of which could have been done very easily.

About noon today a young woman, rather pretty, but evidently a member of the social circle to which Mercy Merrick once belonged, came into the bank and asked if Mr. Percival was there. Mr. Norman was not acquainted with the man. She said he had been in there the day before. Mr. Norman asked her if he was a short man, fashionably dressed and went on to describe the man who gave his name as Wallace.

The girl said that was the man. Was he accompanied by a tall man? Yes, and his name she said was Clark. Were there three of them outside? Yes, she said, there were five of them. She went on to say that Percival had promised to pay a woman, who was a friend of hers, in a check on the Exchange Bank where he said he had a deposit.

Mr. Norman talked with her some time trying to get a clue to the whereabouts of the gang to which she evidently belonged, but was not very successful. Undoubtedly she came in to learn if Mr. Norman's suspicions had been aroused by the proceedings of the day before, but the gentleman did not indicate that he distrusted his callers in the least.

The police have been notified, and they are now on the lookout for the party. It is worth noticing that the two men who went into the bank said they were stopping at Mr. Vyse's, on the avenue, whereas that gentleman and his family were not at home.

Evidently a bold robbery and, perhaps, murder, was planned, and we congratulate the bank and the cashier, on their fortunate escape.

A disease with a thousand symptoms

Dyspepsia is the most perplexing of all human ailments. Its symptoms are almost infinite in their variety, and the forlorn and despondent victims of the disease often fancy themselves the prey, in turn, of every known malady. This is due, in part, to the close sympathy which exists between the stomach and the brain, and in part, also, to the fact that any disturbance of the digestive functions necessarily disorders the liver, the bowels and the nervous system, and affects to some extent, the quality of the blood. A medicine then, like Hostetter's Bitters, not only tones the stomach but at the same time controls the liver, produces a regular habit of body, braces the nerves, purifies the fluids and "ministers to a mind diseased," is therefore the true and only specific for chronic indigestion. Such is the operation of this famous vegetable restorative. It not only cures dyspepsia, but also all concomitants and consequences. Moreover, it is invaluable as a preventive of indigestion. No one who chooses to take half a wine-glassful of this agreeable appetizer and stomachic habitually three times a day will be troubled with oppression after eating, nausea, sour eructations, or any other indications of a want of vigor in the digestive and assimilating organs. The debility and languor superinduced by hot weather are immediately and permanently relieved by the Bitters, and persons who are constitutionally inclined to look upon life "as through a glass, darkly," will be apt to take a brighter and more hopeful view of the situation under the genial influence of this wholesome medicinal stimulant.

Another attractive feature of the most attractive part of Brooklyn, is the establishment of a Young Ladies' Seminary, of a high order in the immediate vicinity of Prospect Park. Its healthful and beautiful location, literary advantages, and the list of eminent names that appear as references, will doubt secure it extensive patronage. For information, address Mrs. L. W. P. Kerney, 41 Prospect Place, Brooklyn, N. Y. aug22-5w

For Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms, Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic. As a stimulant tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness it has no equal. If taken during the season it prevents fever and ague and other intermittent fevers. a9-4w

LABOR-SAVING MACHINES. Of the many household labor-saving machines offered from time to time, none are more deserving of public attention and earnest consideration, or that promises such sure and lasting relief to the hard worked washer woman, than the "Ferguson Washer." Simple in construction, easy of management, devoid of machinery, it will not injure a single thread of any fabric, and can be worked by any child twelve years old; will do in a thorough manner, any ordinary family washing in two hours. Possessing these undisputed qualities, the Company in order to prove their integrity in the matter, guarantee entire satisfaction or a return of the purchase money to the buyer.

Without a Sprinkling, so to speak, of some delicate perfume, no lady's toilet is complete, and we feel assured that in this respect the new and delightful handkerchief extracts manufactured by Messrs. Colgate & Co. will take the lead; for not only are they the sweetest, but most lasting perfume that has yet appeared before the public.

Dyspepsia is a Hydra-Headed Monster, from which nearly all "the ills the human flesh is heir to" originate. The Peruvian Syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of Iron, is a long tried and well established remedy for this distressing complaint; it has cured thousands when other remedies have failed.

New York.

TWEED'S PRINTING.

In the court of Common Pleas a motion was made on behalf of Wm. McNamara, for a peremptory mandamus to compel Controller Green to pay $115 for advertising for the Board of Public Works in 1870 and $1,260 for advertising polling places of election in 1870. The affidavit of the relator states that he was editor of the Sunbeam, a weekly newspaper published in the city. The corporation advertising of public works was done by order of Wm. M. Tweed. The case stands over.

BROOKLYN.

The Chief of Police, Campbell, of Brooklyn, was notified by the Commissioners this morning that his services were no longer required.

Many families in South Brooklyn will be unable to occupy the houses for some time, at least till the water can be drained off.

THE STORM.

The storm of the past week continues. The rain fell in torrents all night, and many cellars are flooded and other damage done. The streets have been thoroughly cleaned. Wind northeast.

JAPANESE AFFAIRS.

Japan advices state that the insurrection in the northwestern part of the island has quietly subsided, just as the rebels, nearly all of whom were farmers, had assumed dangerous proportions, owing to the heavy rains which have continued nearly two weeks. The Japanese never like to be out in the wet, and when the troops from Nangasaki and other places appeared at the same time as the storm, the 150,000 people who had taken up arms in the shape of bamboo spears, suddenly vanished.

There is no doubt this insurrection was the largest known on the island for a long time. Fourteen ringleaders have been arrested. The government prohibits the sale of powder and firearms among the people.

Miscellaneous.

NASHVILLE, August 20. A desperate fight occurred on College street, tonight, between officers Plummer and Reed, of the city police, and a party of eight countrymen whom they had arrested for creating a disturbance in a saloon. On the way to the police headquarters Wm. Ridley, one of the prisoners, refused to go any further and began an attack on Reed, when a general melee occurred, and several shots were fired and knives freely used. Officer Plummer was shot in the right shoulder and officer Reed stabbed in the forehead. As soon as the shooting began the party scattered in all directions. A colored man named Chas. Allen, in attempting to stop one of them was stabbed twice in the throat, and had his hands badly cut. It is thought his wounds will prove fatal. The police are searching the city for the fugitives, but only two have been arrested as yet.

FORT SCOTT, August 20.—Additional advices from Les Cygnes state after taking the cars the mob returned to Las Cygnes, where Keller ate a hearty dinner, after which he was taken into Kellogg's office, where an effort was made by many citizens to avert the murderous design of the mob. Gen. Blair, of Fort Scott, was there, and used his best endeavors to save the life of Keller. Blair had been sworn in as Judge pro tem. of the District Court. He adjourned the court till Monday next. He then went with the infuriated populace to the woods and addressed the people on the vindication of the law. His remarks were temperate but not sufficient. An elder was then called and offered prayer for Keller, at the close of which Keller was taken by twelve men and hanged.

MADRID, August 21. The prisoners taken by the government forces in encounters with the Cantonal and Communist insurgents, are to be sent to reinforce the Spanish army in Cuba.

The total strength of the Carlist forces operating in the north is estimated at 28,000 men of all arms. The government is actively progressing with the organization of new levies, amounting to 80,000 men, to take the field against the rebels. A bill has been presented in the Cortes suspending the guarantees of individual rights during the continuance of the present troubles.

The Minister of War has received dispatches announcing that in the battle near Berga, between the Republicans and Carlists, the insurrectionists were utterly defeated with a loss of 90 killed and 300 wounded. Among the latter were Generals Sabatis and Tristany. The siege of Berga has been raised and the enemy's are in full retreat.

MONTREAL, August 21.—At a meeting, to-night, of the Italian residents, of this city, resolutions were passed regarding the abominable traffic in Italian children abroad. A forcible illustration was shown in this connection by the arrest and prosecution of Glicone, at New Haven, Conn. A vote of thanks in the mother tongue was forwarded to the Italian Consul General, at New York, as a mark of gratitude for his vigorous exertions towards crushing the shameful trade.

BOSTON, August 21.- Henchman's lubricating oil works in Chelsea were burned this morning with the contents. The building was owned by Clarke & Woodward. Their loss is $6,000; insured for $3,000. Henchman's stock was valued at $4,000 besides some $8,700 worth of machinery which is a total wreck, insured for $12,000. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an incendiary.

GALVESTON, August 21.- Chiefs Santanta and Big Tree arrived at Houston yesterday under guard, from the penitentiary en route for Fort Sill, where a council will be held between Secretary Delano and Governor Davis and the Kiowa and Comanche tribes with a view to further peace.

WASHINGTON, August 21.- Rear Admiral Jenkins announces the finding and sentence of dismissal in the case of Lieutenant Commander James H. Rawland, late in command of the Palos, who was tried on charges of scandalous conduct and conduct unbecoming a gentleman an officer of the navy.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., August 21.—A pouring rain that has prevailed all day to-day caused a postponement of the races set down for the third day of the fall meeting at Hampden Park. If it does not rain, they will be continued to-morrow, and it is hoped that the meeting can be ended on Saturday, for which day the great open-to-all-race is now set down.

RACINE, Wis., August 21. A fire at Waterford, yesterday morning, destroyed Wegg's brick store, occupied by Hey & Christiansen, Christiansen's shoe shop, Harden's carriage shop, and Hollendrake's blacksmith and wagon shops. Loss estimated at $10,000.

CINCINNATI, August 21. 1 o'clock this afternoon the Chillicothe accommodation train, on the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad, collided with a freight train east of Montgomery, totally wrecking both locomotives and baggage cars. Three train men were killed and three others badly scalded. The names of the victims are:

Killed—James Parwing, brakeman, Mr. Howard, baggage master, and Charles Kalther, fireman.

Scalded—Edward Rathor, Walter Rhodes, express messenger, and one of the engineers.

The passengers all escaped unhurt with one exception, a gentleman in the baggage car, slightly injured.

Peabody, Superintendent of the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad, telegraphs from the scene of the accident that the collision was due to the watch of conductor of the freight train being fifteen minutes slow. He says the conductor and engineer ran away as soon as the accident occurred, and adds, later, "We have arrested the conductor, and have a warrant for the arrest of the engineer, both of the freight train. We intend to prosecute them for murder." He says the passenger coaches were thrown from the track, but no one was hurt. The road will be clear for trains by midnight.

HALIFAX, August 21. Schooner Lion, the first of Nova Scotia and Labrador cod fishing fleet has arrived at Malone Bay, with a full fare.

The City of Washington wreck has been re-sold for an advance of one thousand dollars on the price realized at the late auction sale.

PARIS, August 21.—The Opinion Nationale says the negotiations looking to a fusion of the conservatives of the Assembly with the legitimists in the interest of Chambord, have suddenly come to an end in consequence of differences upon the question of a national flag.

M. Bouillerie, Minister of Commerce, has written a letter to M. Daval, in which he says the differential duties upon grain imported into France in American and other foreign vessels will continue to be collected until the 1st of October next.

PHILADELPHIA, August 21.—Judge McKennan, of the United States Circuit Court, filed an opinion, to day, in the case of the Reading Railroad vs. John B. Kenney, late Collector, deciding that under the provision of the act of July 14th, 1870, a dividend declared on the 30th of November of that year, and payable on the 27th of December of the same year, is not liable to tax to the United States; that the act is limited in its operation to the 1st of August, 1870, and the new tax was not imposed upon interest and dividends during the remainder of that year, or until the year 1871.

In other words, interest and dividends declared and payable during the last five months of 1870, are exempt from taxation. The case was an action of trespass for the alleged illegal seizure and detention of goods and chattels of the plaintiff. The defendant alleged justification in making the seizure, because the plaintiff on the last day of November, 1870, declared a dividend of $1,590,580 61 on its capital stock as a part of its earnings between July 1, 1870, and November 30, 1870, and that the plaintiff was liable to the United States tax of 2½ per cent.

The respective merits of asphalte and wood paving have been under discussion by the authorities of the city of London. When horses fall on asphalte their legs, it is urged, are "spread out," and they become injured for life. Falls on granite paving are not, as a rule, attended with such serious results, nor do horses fall on wood paving to the same extent as they fall on asphalte. The question is still under discussion.

Coroner Stephens has commenced an inquest on the bodies of the persons killed at the Lamont disaster. The agent at that point testified that he protested strongly against the freight train pushing forward, and notified the train dispatcher at Bloomington that a slaughter was impending.

The number of deaths from the accident has reached eighteen. The managers of the road have caused the arrest of John Patterberger, the freight engineer, and officers have been sent to Joliet for Edward Bean.

The Patent Tubular Argand Lamp.

Safety, Economy, Durability, Beauty and Convenience.

No Gases to Explode—The Best Light in the World for the Least Money
Perfect Combustion and no Odor from the Oil—
Parts of the Lamp Readily and Cheaply Replaced if Broken A Parlor Ornament, Beautiful as well as Useful.

Advantages of the Patent Argand Lamp:

1. It applies the Argand principle to glass, which has heretofore been applicable only to metal. Hence it can be afforded at about half the cost of the ordinary Student Lamp.

2. Should the glass bowl, or any other part of the Lamp be broken, it can be cheaply replaced, as the parts are all uniform, and interchangeable—the same piece fitting any Lamp.

3. Improvements on the Argand principle have rendered Combustion in this lamp simply perfect, so that there is no odor from it, and the lamp furnishes a greater light at a less cost than any other lamp in the market. The wick of this lamp is two inches wide, and yet with this large flame it can be run at a cost of not more than half a cent an hour, with oil at forty cents a gallon, as determined by careful experiment.

4. The light is the most steady and agreeable known.

5. The constant current of cool air passing, by means of the glass tube, through the centre of the body of oil, keeps it cool, and renders explosions impossible, as no gases are evolved at this low temperature.

6. The lamps are made of heavy pressed glass, set on white porcelain, or bronze feet, brackets, pendants, chandeliers, or ordinary gas fixtures.

7. Any kind of Kerosene oil can be burned in the Standard Lamp.

8. No metal lamp has yet been made which will hold kerosene oil without more or less leakage. The glass Standard Lamp cannot leak.

9. The lamp bowls are made very heavy and thick, and are far less liable to break than ordinary light glass lamps, so common in the market.

Plants as Doctors.

In addition to the pleasure that may be derived from the floriculture, the sanitary value of flowers and plants is a feature of the subject so important as to call for special mention. It was known many years ago that ozone is one of the forms in which oxygen exists in the air, and that it possesses extraordinary powers as an oxidant, disinfectant and deodorizer.

Now, one of the most important of late discoveries in chemistry is that made by Professor Mantegazza of Pavia, to the effect that ozone is generated in immense quantities by all plants and flowers possessing green leaves and aromatic odors. Hyacinths, mignonette, heliotrope, lemon, mint, lavender, narcissus, cherry, laurel, and the like, all throw off ozone largely on exposure to the sun's rays; and so powerful is this great atmosphere purifier that it is the belief of chemists that whole districts can be redeemed from the deadly malaria which now infests them, by simply covering them with aromatic vegetation.

The bearing of this upon flower culture in our large cities is also very important. Experiments have proved that the air of cities contains less ozone than that of the surrounding country, and the thickly inhabited parts of cities less than the more sparsely built, or than the parks and open squares. Plants, and flowers, and green trees, can alone restore the balance; so that every little flower pot is not merely a thing of beauty, while it lasts, but has a direct and beneficial influence upon the health of the neighborhood in which it is found.

Surely, it is a beautiful provision of nature that something which is at once the most dainty of occupations and the most delightful of amusements, should be intimately bound up with the solution of problems so important as the health of our cities and the redemption of fever-infected districts in the country. Diamond Spectacles.

TRADE MARK

THESE SPECTACLES are manufactured from "MINUTE CRYSTAL PEBBLES" melted together, and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy. It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eye, because of their polarized light. Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberrations and produce a brilliancy and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.

Manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Comp[any], New York. For sale by responsible agents in every city in the Union. H. A. THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
JURUBEBA
BLOOD PURIFIER

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthens the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

NOTICE.

A prominent New York physician lately complained to DUNDAS DICK, about his SANDALWOOD OIL CAPSULES, stating that sometimes they cured miraculously, but that a patient of his had taken them without effect. On being informed that several imitations were sold, he inquired and found his patient had not been taking DUNDAS DICK & CO'S.

What happened to this physician may have happened to others, and DUNDAS DICK & CO. take this method of protecting physicians, druggists and themselves, and preventing OIL OF SANDALWOOD from coming into disrepute.

PHYSICIANS who once prescribe the Capsules will continue to do so, for they contain the pure Oil in the best and cheapest form.

DUNDAS DICK & CO. use more OIL OF SANDALWOOD than all the Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Perfumers in the U. S. combined, and this is the sole reason why the pure Oil is sold cheaper in their Capsules than in any other form.

OIL OF SANDALWOOD is fast superseding every other remedy, sixty Capsules only being required to insure a safe and certain cure in six or eight days. From no other medicine can this result be had.

Dick's Soft Capsules solve the problem long considered by eminent physicians, of how to avoid the nausea and disgust experienced in swallowing, which are well known to detract from, if not destroy, the good effects of many valuable remedies.

Soft Capsules are put up in tin-foil and neat boxes, thirty in each, and are the only Capsules prescribed by Physicians.

TASTELESS Medicines.—Castor Oil and many other nauseous medicines can be taken easily and safely in DUNDAS DICK & CO.'S SOFT CAPSULES. No Taste. No Smell.

☞ These were the only Capsules admitted to the last Paris Exposition.

THE MIDLAND RAILWAY is an enterprise of National importance, and the Stock and Bonds soon to be placed upon the principal Stock Exchanges, will be as freely dealt in as are those of the New York Central, Erie, and Pennsylvania Central Railroad Companies. Five hundred and eighty-eight miles of its railroad are now completed and in operation. Continuous trains are running from New York to Oswego, and on the Western Extension, towards Buffalo, the Company is running trains [illegible] miles; the remainder of the distance, 120 miles, to Buffalo, is in course of rapid construction and it will be completed within one year. The New York and Oswego Midland Railway will be one of the most profitable Trunk Lines running out of New York.

We confidently believe that Fifty Millions of Dollars will be made by the Stock and Bond holders of this road within a few years by the rise in the value of the property.

This difference of distance in favor of the Midland route must always enable it to compete with the other lines advantageously as to freight, and ought to secure it a larger share of the passenger traffic than any other line. The early completion of the Western Extension, from Scipio Centre to Buffalo, is ensured by the subscriptions of capitalists to a syndicate formed to provide $5,000,000 of Bonds from the Company. The syndicate has guaranteed to advance further means, if wanted, to complete the Road. We offer for a short time, New York and Oswego Midland Railway Co. First Mortgage seven per cent. Gold Bonds, Western Extension, at 87 1-2 and accrued interest in currency.

We are sole agents for selling Jersey City & Albany Railroad Company's 7 per cent. Gold Bonds at 90 and interest in currency. This road is now in operation from Jersey City to Tappantown, a distance of twenty-four miles. Nine miles further are graded, on which iron is being laid. The road will be completed to Haverstraw within a year. These Bonds are only issued on completed road.

A specialty will be made of the Stock and Bonds of the following Companies: New York & Oswego Midland Railway Company, New Jersey Midland Railway Company, Montclair Railway Company, and Jersey City & Albany Railroad Company. We have now on hand a limited supply of these Bonds.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN SYRUP
AN IRON TONIC

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.
